

About Anne Hillerman

Author Anne Hillerman writes detective stories set on the Navajo Nation using character her father Tony Hillerman made popular. Her debut novel, Spider Woman's Daughter, received the Western Writers Spur Award as best first novel. That book and the six novels that followed were all New York Times best sellers. Her newest mystery, The Sacred Bridge, was released in 2022.

When she's not working, Anne likes to read, cook, walk, garden and travel. She lives near Santa Fe with frequent trips to the Navajo Nation.
